

Internship opportunity

Communication strategy Amsterdam startup

3 to 6 months, starting from Feb 2019

Summary

For our headquarters in Amsterdam, we are looking for an enthusiastic intern who wants to contribute to our communications plan setup and execution for our current projects and new products. The ideal candidate should like writing short communication pieces and designing (web)material to support our activities.. We are looking for an intern that is available for at least three-four months and is currently in the final phase of his or her study (Bachelor's degree) in a field relevant for the internship. Are you an independent, enthusiastic worker, fluent in English, and do you combine a hands-on mentality with a strategic mind, then we hope to hear from you soon!

Company Profile: Making a next generation multi-purpose crop

Sunchem is a unique Agro-technology company working in the space of bio-fuel (aviation focused) and animal feed. With offices and operations in South-Africa, Italy and Brazil it is Sunchem's mission to maximize the value proposition of Solaris. Solaris is a non-nicotine GMO free tobacco variety which produces a new and unconflicted source of protein whilst giving farmers an alternative to growing smoking tobacco. Sunchem is actively investigating various new market applications in the field of speciality biofuels and biopharming.

To learn more about Sunchem, to see if you fit well with the company, please read our story to find out more about our approach to sustainability and our achievements, at www.sunchem.it. Visiting the website will also give you an idea of what can be further improved. As an intern at Sunchem BV, Amsterdam, you will be given responsibilities from the start and you join a small, enthusiastic, fun-loving and highly ambitious team.

Internship focus: Marketing-communications specialist

The person we are looking for has a genuine interest in positioning Sunchem as a global R&D player in innovative, renewable fuel and feedstock production. The tasks will include:

- Develop and execute the communications plan
- Social media plan and increase presence on social media
- Prepare Sunchem's / Solaris attendance to relevant trade fairs and competitions
- Suggest and execute improvement of the website, using Wordpress.

Key Criteria

The ideal candidate meets the following key qualifications:

- Fluent in English speech and writing. Language skills complementary to the team are very much appreciated (particularly Italian and Dutch)
- Strong analytical focus, can-do mentality, good social skills
- Can deal with (likes!) a start-up environment, flexible
- A person that is self-motivated, independent and persistent
- Fulltime but flexible working hours
- Willing to travel to Amsterdam to work at our office at least 3 days a week

What we offer

Sunchem is offering:

- An inspiring international working environment
- Monthly compensation to be agreed upon
- Unique experience in a fast-growing R&D Agro-tech company.
- A great opportunity to gain experience in various fields of sustainable feedstock production
